

ACHIEVE YOUR GOALS

The medical group business is under massive reconstruction. This is a moment of great opportunity for groups that can perform well and increasing danger for groups that can't.

The challenges groups face are enormous – re-engineering, financial performance in an era where overhead inflation outpaces revenue growth, quality improvement, outcomes transparency, competition from other providers in your market, physician recruitment and retention – but the opportunities for the successful are enormous, as well.

Working within the laboratory of real-world medical groups that we manage, the MediSync team has invented and innovated new solutions to old problems and solutions for the new problems that healthcare reform have brought us. Using modern quality tools like Six Sigma and Lean, we test and retest our solutions to prove that they work.

Talk to us about where your group is in its journey.

FROM VOLUME TO VALUE

The healthcare industry is rapidly evolving from a model that stresses care volume – treating as many patients as possible – to one centered on care value. At the same time, group's reimbursements are flat and overheads are up.

Let us show you the difference between “consulting” and real-world medical group management processes that work.

NOT SURE WHAT'S WRONG?

MediSync can do an assessment of your group that will reveal both the problems and the answers. We can analyze your basic group operations, your readiness for value based care or both.
